Judge Rhen left last night via Lynchburg for lexington. He will leave there this morning on a special train for an inspection of the Valley Division of the Bultimore and Ohio from Lexington to Harrisonburg, reaching Harrisonburg to-night. One of the main points to be determined is in reference to the Bultimore and Ohio station at Staunton, against which many complaints have been directed. The present arrangement is reported to be entirely inadequate and unsatisfactory. Tentative plans for a new station have been filed with the Corporation Commission. Before approving them Judge Rhea desires to look into the practile ability of requiring a union station with the Chesapeake and Ohio at Staunton. Frequent complaints have been made from Harrisonburg and other points of failure to make proper connection at Staunton Complaints have been made from Richmond. The conference was held behind closed doors, and Mr. Glasgow's statements were taken down by a stenographer. He went over the local gas situation in detail, pointing out the features which, in his opinion, stand most in need of correction. For the most part the conference went over the same ground that was covered at Tuesday's meeting.

Mr. Glasgow repeated his opinion that the gas plant was efficient, and that its equipment was up to the standard. His recommendations touched all if the distributing system and a more aggressive business policy. More detailed information on these points will be available when the Administrative libraries of Mr. Glasgow's written statement.
